Safari Animals — Answer Key

Did you know?

- The "Big Five" safari animals, lions, elephants, buffalo, leopards and rhinos, were originally named for being the hardest and most dangerous to hunt on foot.
- African elephants are the largest land animals alive today.
- Giraffes have the same number of neck vertebrae as humans, seven, just each one is much longer.
- A group of zebras is called a dazzle, one of the more unusual collective animal names.
